HOUSE M, GIVING AN EXCELLENT IDEA OF HOW THESE BUILDINGS AT LOÛ-LAN WERE CONSTRUCTED OF POPLARS AND SHEAVES OF KAMISCH AND TAMARISK STANDING ON END.

In the very middle is a door set wide open; the whole of the door-frame is intact, though half buried in sand. On left doorway without door.

In foreground a thin layer of sand which has gathered on the sheltered side of house. In background extensive view across jardang desert.
