

	Page.
Pl. 49. Northern part of sandy desert, 31st Jan. 1901	438.
» 49. Marching between high dunes	438.
» 50 a. Views from desert of Gobi	446.
» 50 b. Dunes on the eastern shore of Nias-köl	450.
» 50 b. Dunes in the heart of the Takla-makan desert	450.
» 50 b. Dunes in the Kerija desert	450.
» 52. Views from belt of steppe between Astin-tagh and desert range	470.
» 53. Little oasis just above Camp CXLII, Feb. 10th 1901	478.
» 53. Southern part of Kuruk-tagh	478.
» 54. Gigantic mass of bedded clay in desert between Camp CXXXVIII and Atschik-kuduk, Feb. 5th 1901	486.
» 54. Clay terraces on right side of our route between Camp CXXXVI and Camp CXXXVII, Feb. 1st 1901	486.
» 55. Masses of clay resembling ruined towers and walls between Camp CXXXVIII and Atschik-kuduk	494.
» 56. Camp CXXXVIII. Camels drinking at recently dug well	502.
» 62. View from roof of our seraj at Tscharklik	606.
» 64. Solitary tower of March 3rd 1901	614.
» 64. Cloud of dust raised by demolition of upper part of tower — tower A at Loû-lan	614.
» 65. Tower at Camp CLIX, looking north-west	622.
» 66. Wheel of arba and various fragments of carved wooden ornaments. Jardang ridges in background	626.
» 68. House D looking south-south-east	630.
» 69. Pulling down a dangerous mass at side of tower, Loû-lan	632.
» 70. House F, south-west of manuscript house. Men excavating. In foreground big earthenware jar	634.
» 71. Another view of house F	636.
» 72. House M, giving an excellent idea of how these buildings at Loû-lan were constructed of poplars and sheaves of kamisch and tamarisk standing on end	638.
» 73. House of sun-dried bricks in Loû-lan, in third section of which, farthest on right, all the old chinese manuscripts were found	640.
» 74. Tower of March 7th	642.
» 74. Largest house in most north-westerly village of Loû-lan. March 7th	642.
» 76. Excavating little »temple« in most north-westerly village of Loû-lan	644.

Figures in the text.

Fig. 1. The Toghrak-bulak or Astin-bulak	3.
» 2. At Dilpar	5.
» 3. Another view of Dilpar	6.
» 4. Vertical section of the Kontsche-darja. The left bank is high, the right low	7.
» 5. Forest at Dilpar	7.
» 6. Vertical section of Kontsche-darja at Dilpar, March 6	8.
» 7. Measuring the Kontsche-darja through holes in the ice	9.
» 8. The migrations of the Kontsche-darja	12.
» 9. Tamarisk-mounds between the Kontsche-darja and Basch-toghrak	12.
» 10. Basch-toghrak	13.
» 11. » »	14.
» 12. Vertical section at Basch-toghrak	15.
» 13. Formation of tamarisk-mounds	15.
» 14. Mountain scenery on the road between Suget-bulak and Kurbantschik	19.