

	Page.
Fig. 67. Vertical section of Altmisch-bulak	74.
» 68. Wounded wild camel at Altmisch-bulak	75.
» 69. Wounded wild camel at Altmisch-bulak	76.
» 70. Another view from Altmisch-bulak	77.
» 71. Clay terrace of Kuruk-tagh	104.
» 72. Vertical section of the entrance to the glen	106.
» 73. Fragments of iron pot found in the lower Kuruk-tagh	107.
» 74. A cairn on the old road	108.
» 75. The same as fig. 73, reconstructed	109.
» 76. Vertical section of the mountain-chain	109.
» 77. A little range of the Kuruk-tagh	110.
» 78. Clay formations	114.
» 79. Jardangs	115.
» 80. Vertical section of rocks	117.
» 81. The Kuruk-tagh with the entrance to the valley of Suget	121.
» 82. Vertical section of the shore at Camp XXI	125.
» 83. Old bed of the Tarim	128.
» 84. Old bed of the Tarim north of Kara-koschun	131.
» 85. Effect of the drift-sand upon the Kara-koschun	133.
» 86. Sandfields north of Kara-koschun	134.
» 87. A small open »köl» in the kamisch of the western Kara-koschun	137.
» 88. Tschapghan in the Kara-koschun	138.
» 89. A »tschapghan» in the Suji-sarik-köl	138.
» 90. Showing the relative depth of Tojaghun	142.
» 91. The same	142.
» 92. The eastern part of Kara-koschun, as seen from a mound on the northern shore, in 1896	145.
» 93. Difference of depth in the southern and northern part of Kara-koschun	146.
» 94. Presumptive and real section of Kara-koschun	147.
» 95. The Tarim a short distance above Jurt-tschapghan	151.
» 96. Vertical section at Jurt-tschapghan, April 13	152.
» 97. Vertical section of Tarim at Kum-tschapghan, April 10	153.
» 98. The Kum-tschapghan and Tusun-tschapghan anno 1900	153.
» 99. Vertical section of Tusun-tschapghan branch, April 10	154.
» 100. Vertical section of Kum-tschapghan branch, April 10	154.
» 101. Distribution of water in the Kara-koschun	155.
» 102. View to the east from the top of the highest dune-mound at Kum-tschapghan. This is the real delta, where the Tarim disappears in the marshes of Kara- koschun (drawn in 1896)	156.
» 103. View to the N.W. from the same point	157.
» 104. View to the south from the same point. In the foreground the satmas of Kum- tschapghan and behind them the very end of the Tarim river	157.
» 105. Vertical section of Tarim at Jurt-tschapghan, June 25	158.
» 106. Vertical section of Tarim and Kara-koschun	158.
» 107. The lowermost Tarim acting as a reservoir for the summer water	159.
» 108. Vertical section of Tarim at Jurt-tschapghan, April 3	161.
» 109. The chinese fort of Jurt-tschapghan	162.
» 110. View to the east, April 1st; part of the new lake north of Kara-koschun	165.
» 111. Part of the new lake to the north of Kara-koschun (1900)	166.
» 112. Probable contour of the north-east of Kara-koschun	172.
» 113. A piece of board	178.
» 114. The huts at the present time	178.