

IX. IN URUMCHI	207
Meeting Sheng Tupan	208
Old acquaintances	209
Our position improves	209
Peculiar conditions in Urumchi	211
An upsetting letter from Hummel	213
An unexpected meeting	215
A violent thunderstorm	216
Caught up by Hummel	218
Back in Urumchi	219
Earthquake	221
Hummel and Bergman leave for Sweden	221
Sinkiang shilly-shallying	222
Calumny and intrigue	223
Arrival of the lorries	225
The archaeological collections cause us trouble	225
High and low spirits in Urumchi	226
Examination of our luggage	227
Sports events	229
Illness	230
Ready to leave	230
X. FROM URUMCHI TO ANHSI	232
Hami	232
Across the Pei-shan	234
Anhsi	236
XI. TO LOP-NOR FROM THE EAST	238
Anhsi — Tun-huang	239
Tun-huang	240
The Caves of the Thousand Buddhas	241
Return to Tun-huang	242
Preparing the Pei-shan tour	243
We turn north	244
Turning west through the Pei-shan	247
A robber band	248
»Camel Well»	250
The sand-dunes of the Ghashun-gobi	251
Stay at Lo-t'o-ching	252
A new push to the west	255
The eastern border of the Lop depression	259
The Lop-nor depression	262
Turning back east	263
XII. ALONG THE IMPERIAL HIGHWAY	265
Leaving Anhsi	265
Christmas 1934	266
Yü-men	267
The western end of the Great Wall	268
Arrival in Suchow	269
A southern road to Kao-t'ai	271
Kanchow	275
Along the Great Wall	278
Liangchow	281
Through perilous mountain regions	283
The Wu-ch'iao-ling pass	286
P'ing-fan	287