

BOOK SECOND.—PART FIRST.

- Page 340. NAKKARAS. From a Chinese original in the Lois des Empereurs Mandchous (Thai-Thsing-Hoei-Tien-Thou), in the Paris Library.
- „ 341. NAKKARAS. After one of the illustrations in Blochmann's edition of the Ain-i-Akbari.
- „ 352. Seljukian Coin, with the LION and the SUN (A.H. 640). After Marsden's Numismata Orientalia, No. 98. Engraved by ADENEY.
- „ 355. Sculptured GERFALCON from the Gate of Iconium. Copied from Hammer's Falknerklee.
- „ 357. Portrait of the Great KAAŃ KÚBLÁI. From a Chinese engraving in the Encyclopædia called San-Thsai-Thou-Hoei; in the Paris Library.
- „ 367. Ideal Plan of the Ancient Palaces of the Mongol Emperors at Khanbaligh, according to Dr. Bretschneider.
- „ 369. Palace at Khan-baligh. From the Livre des Merveilles.
- „ 369. The WINTER PALACE at PEKING. Borrowed from Fergusson's History of Architecture.
- „ 371. View of the "GREEN MOUNT." From a photograph kindly lent to the present Editor by Count de SEMALLÉ.
- „ 373. The Yüan ch'eng. From a photograph kindly lent to the present Editor by Count de SEMALLÉ.
- „ 376. South GATE of the "IMPERIAL CITY" at Peking. From an original sketch belonging to the late Dr. W. Lockhart.
- „ 399. The BŪRGÚT EAGLE. After Atkinson's Oriental and Western Siberia.
- „ 409. The TENTS of the EMPEROR K'ien-lung. From a drawing in the Staunton Collection in the British Museum.
- „ 413. Plain of CAMBALUC; the City in the distance; from the hills on the north-west. From a photograph. Borrowed from Dr. Rennie's Peking.
- „ 458. The Great TEMPLE OF HEAVEN at Peking. From Michie's Siberian Overland Route.
- „ 463. MARBLE ARCHWAY erected under the MONGOL DYNASTY at Kiu-Yong Kwan in the Nan-k'au Pass, N.W. of Peking. From a photograph in the possession of the present Editor.