Fragment 1: A large piece of ancient papyrus with multiple columns of hieroglyphic text. The text is arranged in vertical columns, with some larger characters at the top. The fragment shows significant wear and tear, particularly a large vertical tear in the middle. The hieroglyphs are densely packed and appear to be in a specific dialect or script.

Fragment 2: A smaller, narrower fragment of papyrus with hieroglyphic text. It appears to be a continuation of the text from the larger fragment. The text is written in vertical columns and shows some damage, including a large white irregular shape in the middle, likely due to the fragment's history or the photograph's lighting.
