

- K. 13332: 50. Leaf-shaped arrow-point of agate, rather thick. 38×15 mm. Pl. 3: 13.
- K. 13332: 51-52. Two leaf-shaped arrow-points, or maybe piercers, of quartzite and flint. L. 26 mm.
- K. 13332: 53. Small oval arrow-head(?) of dark-grey flint. Rather blunt. 14×8 mm. Pl. 3: 18.
- K. 13332: 54. The broken-off tip of a well-made arrow-point of quartz.
- K. 13332: 55-57. Three leaf-shaped arrow-points of chert and quartzite. L. 43—33 mm. Pl. 3: 14—16.
- K. 13332: 58. Very blunt arrow-head, or possibly knife, of grey flint. 34×18 mm. Pl. 3: 17.
- K. 13332: 59-60. Two coarse, unfinished arrow-points of quartzite.
- K. 13332: 61-63. Three pointed sherds of chert and quartzite.
- K. 13332: 64-67. Four fragm. of flint arrow-points or small knives.
- K. 13332: 68-69. Two small knives of quartzite, one edge straight, the other slightly convex. 39×13 and 33×8 mm. Pl. 3: 19—20.
- K. 13332: 70. One half of a small knife of yellow phtanite. Made from a flake. Br. 11 mm. Pl. 4: 5.
- K. 13332: 71. Knife of greyish-green chert. One edge more convex than the other. Coarsely made. 85×24 mm. Pl. 3: 21.
- K. 13332: 72-73. Two coarse knives of quartzite, probably unfinished. —: 72 made of a naturally thin piece of stone. Pl. 3: 22.
- K. 13332: 74-85. Twelve fragm. of knives of quartzite and flint.
- K. 13332: 86-95. Ten fragm. of coarse knives of quartzite, chert and flint.
- K. 13332: 96-106. Eleven scrapers of flint, quartzite and felsite. Nearly oval or round. From 40×29 to 15×16 mm. —: 103 Pl. 4: 4.
- K. 13332: 107-108. Two flint scrapers with unfinished retouching.
- K. 13332: 109. Thick quartzite flake with some retouches along one edge. 55×28 mm.
- K. 13332: 110-111. Two small fragm. of flint scrapers.
- K. 13332: 112-114. Three bifacial implements of flint and quartzite, one end straight, the other convex. 42×32, 36×31 and 34×27 mm. —: 112 Fig. 5.
- K. 13332: 115. Part of a core(?) of dark-grey porphyry, the thin edges chipped on each side.
- K. 13332: 116. Nine small objects of quartzite and flint, worked on both sides. Partly knives or cutters, partly fragm. of indeterminate implements.
- K. 13332: 117. Seventeen discs of coarse sherds of quartzite and flint, more or less worked.
- K. 13332: 118. Eight pointed sherds of quartzite, partly unfinished arrow-heads.
- K. 13332: 119. Eight coarse flakes of flint and quartzite, the edges more or less retouched.
- K. 13332: 120. Various coarse flakes of different coloured flints and quartzite.
- K. 13332: 121. Various refuse of flint, agate and quartzite.
- K. 13332: 122-123. Two small fragm. of a grinding stone of sandstone.
- K. 13332: 124. Fragm. of grinding stone(?) of garnet-micaschist. One side ground flat.
- K. 13332: 125. A few bone fragm. and charcoal from a hearth.
- K. 13332: 126. Potsherd from rim of vessel with slightly curved neck and two marked nipples below the neck. Reddish-brown, rather hard-burnt ware, cf. —: 1—4.
- K. 13332: 127-128. Two small potsherds from the upright rims of two vessels, same ware as the preceding.
- K. 13332: 129-132. Four potsherds of same ware as the preceding.
- K. 13332: 133. Core of grey flint, nearly cylindrical. L. 40 mm.
- K. 13332: 134. Part of core of quartzite.
- K. 13332: 135. Arrow-point of quartzite, leaf-shaped, rather thick. L. 45 mm. Unfinished?
- K. 13332: 136. Part of thin natural disc of quartzite; the convex edge has probably been used for cutting.
- K. 13332: 137. Fragm. of bifacial object of quartzite. Cf. —: 112.
- K. 13332: 138. Partly worked block of felsite.
- K. 13332: 139. Thick sherd of quartzite with worked edges.