

400 m. nearly NNE of K. 13360.
2/2—3I.

K. 13361. Thick lead ring, irregularly shaped. Probably a sinker. Diam. 33 mm. Th. 19 mm. Pl. 29:17.

About 4.5 km. NE of K. 13361. 2/2—3I.

K. 13362. Core of grey flint, regular, slightly pointed. L. 30 mm.

500 m. NE of K. 13362. 2/2—3I.

K. 13363:1. Small potsherd of rather thin, sandy ware, grey and reddish.

K. 13363:2-5. Four small flint flakes.

600 m. NE of K. 13363. 2/2—3I.

K. 13364. Small fine flake of light-grey flint. L. 41 mm.

About 200 m. NE of K. 13364. 2/2—3I.

K. 13365. Polished axe of brown chert, very well made throughout. The cutting edge is nearly straight (damaged in one place). 63×46×13 mm. Pl. 5:21.

Scattered finds in the region somewhat to the W of K. 13363, about 11 km. ESE of Lou-lan station. 20/2—3I.

K. 13366:1. Piece of bronze sheet, possibly from a vessel.

K. 13366:2. Small roughed-out core of grey flint. One end battered.

K. 13366:3-5. Three flint flakes with retouched edges.

K. 13366:6-7. Two small flint flakes.

Between K. 13361 and K. 13365.
2/2—3I.

K. 13367. Polished axe of dark-green chert. Short and broad. The cutting edge is quite straight. The butt left unworked. 50×41×13 mm. Pl. 5:20.

Scattered finds between K. 13359 and a spot 5 km. NE of K. 13364. 2/2—3I.

K. 13368:1-4. Four small cores of grey flint and light-green agate.

K. 13368:5-15. Eleven small flakes of grey, green and yellow flint and agate.

K. 13368:16-24. Nine small flakes with retouched edges. —:18 Pl. 4:11.

K. 13368:25. Flake of yellowish-brown agate with retouched edges. The somewhat broader point forms a good scraper. Pl. 5:6.

K. 13368:26. Flake of yellow agate with retouched edges. The median ridge is partly chipped on both sides. L. 6 cm. Pl. 5:7.

K. 13368:27. Large pointed scraper made of a triangular sherd of green flint. One straight edge retouched. 75×48 mm.

K. 13368:28. Polished axe of black-green chert, very thin. The butt left unworked. The cutting edge slightly convex. 60×44×9 mm. Pl. 5:18.

K. 13368:29. Polished axe of green chert, short and broad. Only the lowest part of one of the narrow sides is polished, the rest and the butt being left unworked. The cutting edge nearly straight. 54×47×15 mm. Pl. 5:19.

K. 13368:30. Polished miniature axe or chisel of green chert. The cutting edge is slightly convex. The butt left unworked. 42×32×7 mm. Pl. 5:12.

K. 13368:31-32. Two chips of flint and chert.

K. 13368:33. Iron dagger blade or javelin. Much corroded and broken in several pieces. L. about 145 mm.

K. 13368:34. Fragm. of a bronze ring made of wire.

About 9 km. nearly N of Stein's Fort
L. K. 6/1—3I.

K. 13370:1-2. Two small flakes of yellow flint.

About 12 km. N of K. 13370. 7/1—3I.

K. 13371:1-2. Two flint cores.

K. 13371:3. Small flint flake, weathered.

11 km. nearly N of K. 13371. 7/1—3I.

K. 13372. Fine flake of yellow flint. 48×11 mm.

About 300 m. NE of K. 13372. 7/1—3I.

K. 13373. Small oval bronze ring made of wire. Diam. 19—15 mm.