

Scattered finds along the route between the finds K. 13371 and K. 13376.

7/1—31.

- K. 13374:1-3. Three small fine flakes of green and brown flint with well retouched edges.
- K. 13374:4-5. Two small flint flakes.
- K. 13374:6-7. Two chips of light-green flint.

Sandy depression in wind-eroded clay 14 km. WSW of Lou-lan station. The pick from a rich site. 7/1—31.

- K. 13375:1. Fragm. of brown flint core.
- K. 13375:2. Small flake of brown flint or agate with partly retouched edges and the median ridge chipped on both sides. L. 47 mm.
- K. 13375:3-5. Three small flint flakes with retouched edges.
- K. 13375:6-7. Two piercers or awls made of small flint flakes. L. 34 and 27 mm.
- K. 13375:8-46. Thirty-nine small flint flakes with one or both edges retouched. The largest, —:8, is 62×11 mm. Pl. 5:3. —:12 Pl. 5:4.
- K. 13375:47-68. Twenty-two small flint flakes, several with worn edges.
- K. 13375:69-72. Four flint chips (refuse).

Scattered finds between K. 13375 and a point 2 km. N of it. 7/1—31.

- K. 13376:1. Tubular bead of white-blue marble, L. 21 mm. Diam. 11 mm. Pl. 29:11.
- K. 13376:2. Half mace-head of white marble, nearly globular. Diam. along hole 61 mm. perpendicularly to the hole about 70 mm. Pl. 29:12.
- K. 13376:3. Oblong whetstone of grey slate. 155×22×29 mm.
- K. 13376:4. Lump of metal from bronze smelting.
- K. 13376:5. Small bronze piece with fine verdigris.

Scattered finds along a line 1.5 km. towards NNE from the Lou-lan station. 20/1 and 18/2—31.

- K. 13379:1-5. Five smallish cores of grey flint. —:1 Pl. 5:14.

- K. 13379:6-9. Four small fine flint flakes, two of them having one edge slightly retouched.

- K. 13379:10. Small eye-bead of dark blue-green glass. Only the hollows remain of the four "eyes". Diam. 8 mm.

- K. 13379:11. Wu-ch'u coin. On the reverse is a diagonal rib from each of the two upper corners of the hole. Diam. 25 mm.

- K. 13379:12. Small open ring made of thin bronze wire.

- K. 13379:13. Fragm. of long bronze pin, probably a hair-pin.

- K. 13379:14. Small bronze fragm. possibly from rim of mirror.

- K. 13379:15. One end of a rectangular iron fitting or suchlike with a big rivet hole. Br. 3 cm.

Scattered finds within a distance of 6 km. towards ESE from the Lou-lan station. 19/2—31.

- K. 13380:1. Core of grey flint, flaked off on one side only. L. 4 cm

- K. 13380:2-3. Two small flakes of grey flint.

- K. 13380:4. Broad irregular flake of yellow flint or agate. Probably an unfinished scraper. L. 43 mm.

- K. 13380:5. Bronze lamina, leaf-shaped, with small hole through the widest part. Broken in two in ancient times. 67×43 mm. Pl. 29:7.

About 6 km. NNE of K. 13365, near old river bed. 3/2—31.

- K. 13381. Bronze ring, circular with oval section. Thick verdigris. Diam. 36 mm. Pl. 30:21.

About 4 km. N of K. 13381. 4/2—31.

- K. 13382. Fragm. of the rim of a large bronze basin or cauldron. Thin ware. Fig. 35:11.

About 2 km. NE of K. 13382. 4/2—31.

- K. 13383. Lump of bronze, refuse from smelting.