

CONTENTS

xxxii

CHAPTER XI

ON THE ROAD TO KHOTAN

	PAGE
Ancient desert route—On the track of Marco Polo—An exile in the desert—In Guma oasis—Enquiries after alleged “old books”—Karakul Mazar—Glimpse of Karakorum Range—Stupa of Topa Tim—Débris-strewn ‘Tatis’—Eroded ancient sites—An evening in weird desolation—Old remains at Moji—Oases of Zanguya and Pialma—Comfortable homesteads	180-193

CHAPTER XII

ARRIVAL IN KHOTAN

“The Pigeons’ sanctuary”—Legend of sacred rats—Survival of Buddhist local cult—Rural environs—Entry into Khotan town—Camp in residential gardens—First meeting with Pan-Darin—Despatch of “prospecting” parties—Preparing for the mountains—Interesting geographical task—Forged birch-bark manuscript—Suspected forgeries	194-205
--	---------

CHAPTER XIII

TO THE HEADWATERS OF THE YURUNG-KASH

Start for the mountains—Debouchure of Yurung-kash R.—Through the outer ranges—Crossing of Ulugh-Dawan—Trying march to Buya—In the Pisha Valley—A centenarian hillman—“Kuen-luen Peak No. 5”—A grand panorama—Precipitous descent—Arrival in Karanghu-tagh—A penal settlement—A gloomy vale—Start from Karanghu-tagh—March to Yurung-kash Gorge—Hot spring—Wild river-bed—Attempt to penetrate gorge—Forced to turn back—Climbing on Yaks	206-224
--	---------

CHAPTER XIV

OVER THE KARA-KASH RANGES

A terra incognita—A hidden mountain track—Crossing of Pom-tagh Pass—In the Nissa Valley—Mythic Nysa of Dionysus—Difficult
---	--