

ILLUSTRATIONS

XXXV

	PAGE
90. Ruin of ancient residence N. xxiv., Niya Site, seen from remains of dead harbour on east	280
91. Door with ornamental wood-carving in sand-buried ruin of dwelling N. xii. Niya Site	280
92. Remains of ornamental wood-carving, mainly from ruins of Niya Site	280
93. Central hall and office room in ruined residence N. xxiv., Niya Site, after excavation	282
94. Kharoshthi document on rectangular double tablet, from hidden archive in N. xxiv.	284
95. Clay impressions of intaglio seals on Kharoshthi documents found at Niya Site	286
96. Kharoshthi documents on double-wedge tablets from ruin N. xiii., Niya Site	288
97. Kharoshthi records on oblong and label-shaped wooden tablets found at Niya Site	290
98. Room excavated in ancient residence N. xxvi., Niya Site, with decorated double bracket in wood	292
99. Ruined dwelling N. xxviii., on eroded clay terrace, Niya Site	294
100. Ruin of ancient dwelling, N. xxxvi., at southern end of Niya Site, in course of excavation	294
101. Trunks of dead trees enclosing ancient tank	298
102. Interior of ruined village at Bilel-konghan, seen from circumvallation on north-east	304
103. Interior of ruined fort of Endere seen from east	310
104. Remains of ancient wall on erosion 'witness,' Endere Site .	314
105. Ruined tower with remains of wind-eroded dwelling in foreground, Endere Site	314
106. Ruin of ancient fortified post near high tamarisk-covered sand cone, Endere Site	316
107. 'Dastarkhan' offered on desert route to Charchan	316
108. Western group of ruined Stupa and temples, Miran Site .	338
109. Liao Ta-lao-ye, Chinese magistrate of Charklik	338
110. South face of ruined fort, with central bastion, Miran Site .	350
111. Loplik fishermen at reed hut, Abdal	350
112. Ruin of ancient Stupa, Lop-nor Site, from south-east .	374