

Route

from CHIRGÁŨ to SÁIRI, see No. 180.*Route No. 42.From CHIRGÁŨ (Símla) to the VÁNGTU BRIDGE (Símla).

A secondary route, passable for horses.

Literature: Gerard's Koonawur, pp. 235-47.Maps: Indian Atlas, sheet 47 (second edition).Chirgáũ, 31° 14'; 77° 52', near the confluence of the Pábar and Andriti rivers (level of the confluence 5,607 ft.).Bíthian, 10 miles from Chirgáũ.Rol, 9 miles from Bíthian—Cross the Shátul, or Pánui pass (15,555 ft.).Encamp at its northern foot (a long march)—Pánui.Vángtu Bridge, 31° 37'; 77° 54' E, on the confluence of the Vángar and Sátlej rivers (level of the bridge 4,932 ft.).CHITRÁL, routes to and from, see DRŌS to BOKHÁRA, No. 66.*Route from CHÓRBAD (PÓEN) to DĀ, see No. 46.*Route from CHÓRBAD (PÓEN) to DÍSKIT, see No. 63.*Route No. 43.

From CHÓRBAD (Báiti) to KÍRIS (Báiti).

A secondary route, passable for horses.

Literature: Cunningham's Ladák, p. 163.—Thomson, in Journ. As. Soc. Beng., Vol. XVII., pp. 107, 108, and in Western Himálaya, pp. 208-20.Maps: Cunningham's Pánjáb and Western Himálaya.— Waugh and Thuillier's Pánjáb and adjoining countries.Chórbad, 34° 49'; 76° 28'; 8,879 ft., on the right bank of the Sháyók river—Kúmik—Kústing—Cross the Kústing river.Kúas, a short march of 8 miles—Continue along the Shayók river—Dáu—Lúnka.Súrmo, 12 miles from Kúas—Yuguchúng.Khápalu (8,285 ft.), near the left bank of the Sháyók river.Kárku, 10 miles from Khápalu—Brághar, 4 miles from Kárku.Kunís, on the right bank of the Shayók river, 7 miles from Brághar—Continue along the right bank of the Shayók river—Kúru, 6 miles from Kunís—Gun.Kíris, 35° 20'; 76° 2', near the confluence of the Shayók and Indus rivers. A long march during certain months, when the swollen state of the river does not allow of following its banks closely.Route from the CHŪR PEAK to SÍMLA,

see No. 190.*Route

from CHÚSHUL to Δ RÁLDANG, see No. 173.