

Aquarell by Hermann de Schlagintweit, August, 1856.

LEIPZIG: F.A. Brockhaus. LONDON:

The Peaks and Glaciers of the

Sässer Pass Lat. North 35° 60'

Long. East of

This group of glaciers, presenting the largest accumulation of ice on the southern ridges of the Karakorum chain, must be crossed on the summer route water is very low. The track over this difficult part of the mountains is marked with the numerous skeletons of horses, and beasts of burden, which die from of it to a height